HEIKE AND GERBRACHT ARE FOUND GUILTY.

Jury Decides Sugar Trust Officials Were in Conspiracy to Beat Government.

Disagreement in Case of Bender Nagel, Who Will Be Tried Again—White-Haired Defendants Face Prison Sentences and Heavy Fines—"Higher Ups" Broken in Health—Secretary Convicted on One Count.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles R. Heike, secretary and treasurer of the American Sugar Refining Company, and Ernest W. Gerbracht, formerly superintendent of the Havemeyer and Elder refinery in Williamsburg, were found guilty tonight of complicity in the sugar weighing frauds against the government.

The third defendant, James F. Bender Nagel, who formerly was cashier of the Havemeyer and Elder refinery, was the subject of a long-fought disagreement among the twelve jurors during the twelve hours in which they deliberated.

This ends the government's second attempt to imprison the group of men responsible for the vast underweighting of sugar to which the so-called trust has virtually confessed by the restitution of more than $2,000,000 in duty. It is charged that millions more were involved in the frauds, which have been practiced for years.

FACES PRISON DEATH.

Heike is the highest official of the company upon whom blame has been fixed, and he faces a possible sentence of two years in the Federal Penitentiary and a fine of $10,000. He is 63 years old. His counsel declared repeatedly that a prison term meant death.

Convicted on all six counts, Gerbracht can be sentenced to twelve years in prison, with a maximum fine of $10,000. Like Heike, he is past middle age.

With the acquiescence of Henry L. Stimson, the government prosecutor, Judge Martin said there would be an arrest of judgment until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when he asked counsel to have the defendants in court. At that time the court will decide what will be done.

The prisoners were allowed to go on the bail they have been under since their indictment on the understanding that their counsel should be responsible for their appearance.

PAINFUL TENSION.

There was a painful tension among the prisoners, the counsel, and many spectators as the jurors took their places in the jury box late tonight.

GREAT LOSS.

SEATTLE IS VISITED BY FIRE DISASTER.

Twenty Persons Said to Have Perished in Flames Which Sweep Over Business District and Threaten Wooden Dwellings—Unconfirmed.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SEATTLE, June 10.—Fire on the water front in the northern part of the city late tonight swept away nearly all the buildings on ten city blocks, and caused a loss of $1,000,000 worth of property and probably of a number of lives.

It is reported that twenty persons were killed when the fire destroyed lodging-houses near the Galbraith-Bacon warehouse. A policeman who went through the district just after the fire started, said there was no time for the lodgers in that section to escape.

A number of divorced wives of millionaires perished with their sons or daughters, it is known.

The fire was spreading north toward Denny Way.

Police are going through the district north of the fire warning people to vacate.

All buildings in the path of the flames were wooden, and most of them flimsy lodgings or dwelling houses.

MOVE SICK OUT OF ZONE.

The Pacific Hospital, at Vine and First streets, was in great danger. All the ambulances in the city were pressed into service and patients were removed to the City Hospital, a mile south of the danger zone.

Accurate estimates of the damage cannot be made, as heads of the Galbraith-Bacon Company are out of the city and none of the subordinates know the value of the contents of the building, but all estimates place the loss already sustained as high as $250,000.

The fire was under control at 12:45 a.m., but it is impossible to confirm reports of loss of life, because the wooden ruins are still burning.

The burned area is bounded by Railroad avenue, just east of the harbor front; Third avenue, Wall and Vine streets. Not all the buildings in this area were destroyed, a hurricane blowing from the west, having blown the flames away from some buildings.

Dozens of lodging-houses and so-called hotels, were among the buildings destroyed. They were two and three-story buildings and burned like tinder.

The police and firemen say that some of the lodgers in these buildings must have perished.

The ruins are still blazing fiercely, and it will be impossible to explore them before daylight.

Three firemen were outside a burning warehouse at Wall street and First avenue, when an explosion threw the wall of the building on the men, who are believed to have perished.

The crew of No. 1 fire engine saved their lives by abandoning the engine when a sweep of flame bore down on them.

Firebrands were scattered in several places, but were promptly extinguished by volunteer watchers.

PORTLAND, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Boston, by Harry Hall, striking union teamster, because he kept on working for his employer after the strike was declared, W. T. Slater was so badly injured last night that it is feared he will die. He was rendered unconscious by the terrible beating administered and the best efforts of doctors have failed to arouse him.

Slater was driving a transfer wagon when accosted by Hall, who began to revile him. Hall's words were followed by Hall's setting upon Slater, a much smaller man, beating him to the earth and kicking and striking him repeatedly after he was down, until bystanders finally dragged him away. When picked up Slater was in the condition of unconsciousness which has continued ever since.

Boston Millionaire's Divorced Wife, Who Eloped to Los Angeles With Auto Driver, Causes Scene When She Learns Former Husband Will Take Their Son Abroad.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Nettie F. Shaw, daughter of a millionaire brewer and wife of ex-Senator James F. Shaw, who was divorced after a sensational elopement to Los Angeles with her chauffeur, H. Keno Marble, created a scene in court here today when her husband led their child, a lad 13 years old, from the courtroom.

Under the terms of the divorce the father is to have custody of the child. Mrs. Shaw came into court this afternoon seeking to have her former husband restrained from taking the boy to Los Angeles. Judge Fessenden ruled in Shaw's favor, and Mrs. Shaw, overcome with emotion became so hysterical that court officers were obliged to remove her from the court.

As she left, her boy good-bye she dropped to her knees, and, crying aloud in tones which resounded through the corridors of the building, declared that her boy could not be taken.

Her father finally prevailed upon her to be calm and submit to the Judge's ruling. Judge Fessenden was so affected that he adjourned court.

FIND BODY IN LAKE

Ghastly Discover in Italy.

Remains of Former Mrs. Castle of Francisco in Lake.

Her New Husband, Port Charlton, Is Now Sought by Police.

Her Shooting at a New York Lawyer in the Waldorf Is Recalled.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

COMO (Italy), June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The mutilated body of Mrs. Porter Charlton, wife of Port Charlton, son of a judge of Washington, D. C., was found in a trunk of fishermen today, submerged in a lake near the village of Mostras. Mrs. Charlton was Mrs. Mary Scott Castle, the divorced wife of a wealthy San Francisco lawyer, and was married to Charlton on March 12 last in Philadelphia.

She is the woman who achieved great notoriety a little over a year ago by shooting at William B. Craig, New York lawyer, in the corridor of the Waldorf-Astoria. The officials connect the murder with the killing of Miss Reid, a New York girl, at Naples, recently.

In the trunk containing the body were found letters signed "N. H. Castle," and also a wedding ring on which were engraved the initials "P. C."

After the discovery of the body search was made for Charlton, but he was found to have disappeared. A ex-Russian postal official, named Constantin Ipolatoff, was arrested, however, on suspicion of having been an accomplice in the murder.

BODY MUTILATED.

An examination of the body shows that the woman had evidently been beaten to death with some blunt instrument. The head was crushed and the body wrapped in a piece of cloth that bore the initial "G. L."

The couple were spending their honeymoon here and occupied a villa on the shore of the lake. They were known as Mr. and Mrs. Porter, but had also gone under the name, it was learned, of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Charlton.

Three days ago the couple disappeared, and were not seen again. It had been noticed by natives that while the woman spoke English, the man generally spoke French, but evidently with some difficulty, leaving the impression that it was not his native tongue.

Every effort is being made to apprehend Charlton, or Porter, as he was known here, and the police of neighboring towns have been ordered to be on the lookout for him. A full description of the man has been telegraphed to Milan, as it is believed he has gone there.

Mrs. Porter Charlton was originally Mary Crittenton Scott, daughter of H. Scott of San Francisco. There, in 1897, she was married to Neville H. Castle, a lawyer. Mrs. Castle then went on the stage, appearing in New York in "The Princess and the Butler."

THE SHOOTING.

Her shooting of Lawyer Craig took place on August 3, last, in what is known as "Peacock Room" in the Waldorf. Craig had law offices at No. 2 Rector street, is married and lives at No. 221 West Ninety-fourth street.

When Mrs. Castle was arrested she declared that Craig had done her a wrong.

CINCINNATI (O.) June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After being assessed a small fine in the Police Court in Covington, Ky., today, six men who had been arrested at Latonia race track on suspicion of being pickpockets turned to their attorney, A. E. Stricklett, and asked:

"How much do we owe you?"

"Fifty dollars," said Stricklett.

Stricklett was surprised at the extent of the men's gratitude. Afterward he felt in his pocket.

First Candidate for Governor to Visit Them.

Angeles Man Receives Much Encouragement.

DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]
TACOMA, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaker A. L. Stanton's sign for the Republican nomination for Governor of California was greatly today by the visit of the man made to the navy yard at Island in company with City Attorney William O'Donnell of this city.

Stanton and a party of his friends from Southern California, presented by several citizens of the city, arrived in this city late last night. Many of the business men of the city were introduced to the candidate for the Governorship last night, during the morning hours today. Southern California man was the best attraction in the city.

noon today Mr. Stanton, with Mr. L. B. Hamer and City Attorney O'Donnell went to the navy yard, and in the afternoon met hundreds of men employed there. Mr. Stanton tried to impress the men that they want Governor, and it is probable that he will receive a large majority of the votes.

He shook hands with several hundred of them and was seen by nearly all of them, and before his departure, the yard was buzzing with about him.

He is the first candidate for Governor who has visited the navy yard, for this reason alone he will receive many votes.

On his return to this city, Mr. Stanton launched with some of the business men of Valley, to whom he explained that he had highly pleased his trip across the channel.

"This is an educational campaign," he said. "Because I am educating the voters, as I go along, as what sort of man will make them good Governor; and it is probable that we will receive a large majority of the votes."

He has seen one of the greatest attractions in the State and I have more men single-handed than previous day of my whole life," he said. "I feel that I have accomplished a great deal, both in the advancing my campaign, and in calling the people to the polls."

The Los Angeles friends, who are voting with the candidate, expressed belief tonight that the work the candidate has done this week will result in more votes, but expect for him to win the work of any sweepstakes since his campaign was begun.

They are very enthusiastic over his chances of receiving the nomination and are profuse in their thanks to the man of Valero for the attention he has given him.

Man of Great Extent is Found in Kanes Creek District—Miners Are Interested.

DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

MOUNTAIN HILL (Ariz.) June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Caves of great, though unknown extent, have been discovered in the Kanes Creek district, four miles east of here. Workmen running a mine on a lime ledge broke into the entrance at a depth of about five feet, and at such an angle that those who entered were compelled to crawl. The passage extends twenty or thirty feet, when it turns an abrupt downward and doubles back, making very tortuous passing on the mountain with a pronounced downward trend. At no place does it widen more than ten feet. It branches several times and for this reason the miners could trace their return.

The walls of the cave are of lime stone, the floor is of sand, and the roof is of rock.

of more than one-tenth of a foot a day. It is feared that merchant boats will not be able to get beyond the mouth of the Feather River, twenty-six miles above Sacramento, later this season.

It is expected that small creeks and streams, which are dependent upon snow for supply, will dry up this summer and a general scarcity of water probably will be felt all over the State. This only accentuates the need of storage basins in which a portion of the water that is used each year may be stored for use when the supply is curtailed as it will be this year.

Jury Deliberates Fate of Veteran After Hot Legal Battle at Tombstone.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT]

TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) June 10.—The trial of Capt. O'Connor for the murder of Dr. A. S. Russell at Duquesne, Ariz., January last, was concluded this afternoon. The case was the most stubbornly contested legal battle held here in years by reason of the prominence of the defendant.

Capt. O'Connor, retired, has a military record with distinguished service in the Philippines. His son, who is now major in the United States army stationed at Fort Huachuca, near here, was daily attending the trial.

Capt. O'Connor, who is 75 years old, stood the stand in his own behalf and recounted a series of alleged persecutions in connection with his mining claims which were subsequently sold for $30,000. A feud culminated in the killing of Dr. Russell on Washington Creek road.

The deceased after being shot, with failing strength and his life's blood ebbing away, wrote in a memorandum book: "Capt. O'Connor shot me. Give me my gun and property to Mrs. Harry Vaughn. My money to my sister, Mary, Bulaway, Africa." Capt. O'Connor claims self-defense, although evidence failed to show the doctor was armed.

The case was submitted to the jury at 4 o'clock. It is generally felt that the jury will fail to agree.

SACRAMENTO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Samuel T. Black, who recently retired as the president of the San Diego Normal School, will soon start on a trip around the world, to last about two years, during which time he will travel with the official recommendations or credentials from the State Board of Education and executive authorities of the State.

Special honorary credentials were voted by the State Board of Education. The certificate will be upon parchment, bound in leather, with gold gilt and of Secretary of State Curry, in addition to the independent of the State Board of Education and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt.

In visiting foreign countries, it is necessary for visitors to have special papers to get into the institutions, especially those of learning. Similar credentials were issued to President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California when he went to Europe some time ago.

Black, who was at one time State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be accompanied on the trip by his wife, the Rev. Mrs. Ira Romeo of Johns Hopkins University is president of the board, which will turn its report to Washington in a few weeks.

SACRAMENTO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a letter to the teachers of California, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt makes a few remarks regarding the staging of amateur theatricals by high school pupils. The presentation of classical dramas in schools meets with his approval. Only when the drama degenerates into the cheap tricks and suggestiveness of vaudeville does it become objectionable.

WASHINGTON.

RAILROAD BILL IS DISSECTED.Conferees Have It on the Operating Table.*Final Agreement by Monday Is a Possibility.*Topics for Only One Suggestion by the President.*ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Conferees of the administration Railroad Bill did the aid of Atty.-Gen. Wickersham May, and it was announced tonight at there is a possibility of a final agreement on Monday.

No member of the Conference Committee would discuss the details of day's accomplishments.

It was learned, however, that a tentative agreement was reached as to a long and short haul provision, which will consist practically of both Senate and House amendments on subject.

The stock and bonds provisions are being eliminated, as the Senate demands that, because of Democratic opposition, they could only obtain in the adoption of a conference report providing for Federal regulation securities.

The ascertainment of the physical value of the railroads will not be provided for in the conference bill. Senator Aldrich told Representative Mann that the Senate had voted four to reject that feature, and it is folly to consume time in discussing it.

During the day Mr. Mann submitted substitute for the House amendment on this subject, but the Senate committee, which if adopted, would submit the Conference Committee to general condemnation by those who favor investigation of the value of railroad property.

MANN STILL HOPES.

Mr. Mann has not entirely abandoned hope of compelling the acceptance of some provision on this subject. Several times he referred to the fact that the House had adopted the special valuation amendment, a vote of nearly two to one. President Taft, apparently, will win on only one of the three suggestions that he made the conferees.

He desired that the House amendments concerning stocks and bonds be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission for increases of five to be reduced from ten to six months, and that the section regarding rate increases be made effective once instead of after sixty days.

The members of the Conference Committee favor the latter suggestion, because of its application to notices given by railroads recently or many proposed advances.

The Senate conferees have told the resident they could not consent to the stocks and bonds feature, because of the opposition of the Democrats. The insistence upon the suspension of increases in rates for ten months in the grant period was required by the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue upon their reasonableness.

Many provisions in the House bill are not in the Senate measure in any form, but the Senate committee of Section 7 of the House bill, which provides for an enlargement of the power of the commission over railroads.

This section proposes to amend section 1 of the existing Interstate Commerce Act. It was written by Mr. Mann, and he acknowledged pride of authorship. A large part of this long section was accepted by the Senate without change.

PROPOSED CHANGES.

The proposed changes in existing law would require railroads to provide facilities for operating through routes and to exchange interchange and re-rate the same.

The railroads would be compelled to establish and observe reasonable classifications of property for transportation, regulations affecting rates, tariffs and the form of tickets, receipts and bills of lading, as well as many other regulations affecting marking, packing and delivering property and carrying of personal, sample and excess baggage.

Several amendments adopted by the Senate as the result of demands by insurgents will be retained. These include the amendment placing upon the railroads the burden of providing the means of rate of advance.

On the other hand, it is understood that the Senate amendment requiring that both old and new rates must be shown by the bills of lading, and the shipper reimbursed for the amount of the increase in the event it was held to be unjust, will be dropped.

Senator Foster, the minority member of the Senate Conference Committee, resigned today, and Senator Newlands was appointed to succeed him. The Democratic members of the committee have not been admitted to any of the councils and will not be until a complete agreement has been reached by the Republicans.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE FIGURES.

Marked Improvement Shown for Past Year, According to Government Statistics Just Issued.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—International commerce, according to statistics procured by the Department of Commerce and Labor, showed a marked improvement in all the principal countries of the world for the year ended in April, 1910. A report on the bureau just issued stated:

"International trade, as is well known, fell off in the period following the financial depression of 1907-08, and, as a consequence, the import and export figures of nearly all countries were smaller in 1908 than in the immediately preceding years."

The improvement shown in the figures for the current year is, therefore, in most cases more distinctly a return to normal conditions than actual advance over those which existed prior to the financial depression of 1907-08.

"In many cases, as well as the figures for the current year are materially larger than ever before, and it is probable that the total of internal trade in the calendar year 1910 will surpass that of any former year."

In the United States exports, during the ten months of the current fiscal year averaged 145.8 million dollars, against 140.6 million dollars for the same period in 1908. Imports, for the same period, increased to little more than $100 million, while

MISFORTUNE.

WAPS BONE IN FOREARM.

One Lightweight Champion Earns Plaudits.

Opponent Unable to Take a Quick Advantage.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.

FILWAUKEE. June 10.—As Wolgast's first fight since he wrested the lightweight championship honors from Ewing Nelson was marred by the taking of a bone in his left forearm, the seventh round of a ten-round, decision contest with Jack Redmond of Milwaukee, tonight.

In spite of this, Wolgast had a the better of the bout.

The boys weighed in at 120 lb.

In the fourth round Redmond inand in the seventh snapped a in the forearm, about three ches above the wrist.

To the time of the mishap Wolgast had a good lead, but did little work. He was cool, judged distilly, and scored some big hits in the body in champion-like form, but in the seventh he could tear about six furlongs.

Ketchel landed heavily with lefts to the stomach during the second round, but Smith was quick to come back with his share of body blows.

In the third Ketchel dug in heavily,

ripped through Smith's guard and had him dazed at the bell. Smith staggered

Ketchel with two left hooks to the jaw in the fourth, but Ketchel's vitality brought him back in a twinkling, and for the rest of the round he out-fought his man.

In the fifth Ketchel played heavily on the right arm, and the opening and missed many wild swings.

His fault throughout the fight was poor judgment of distance and inaccuracy.

Ketchel forced Smith to the ropes

As they broke at the referee's command, and took the center of the ring,

Ketchel saw his chance. Smith was trying to come to a clinch, but Ketchel had his right arm around the neck of the barrel. Smith was still squirming on the floor when Ketchel vaulted the ropes as fresh as when he crawled under them.

Ketchel was never in distress and never worried, although at the opening he seemed a little puzzled. Smith fought gamely but was outclassed.

OUTCLASSED.

KETCHEL LANDS KNOCKOUT ON SMITH IN FIFTH ROUND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK. June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stanley Ketchel landed a right arm swing on Jim Smith's jaw in the fifth round of their bout at the National Athletic Club tonight, and Smith struck the floor. He made repeated efforts to rise, but not until he had been down about half a minute was he able to get to his corner. Until the final blow was landed Smith had made a great showing.

It was rough all the way and both men were guilty of holding, although under the referee's announcement they were allowed to fight with one hand free in clinches.

Smith, a newcomer, looked the stronger, and was about eight pounds the heavier. He showed nothing of a novice's timidity and went right after his man at the tap of the bell.

His aggressiveness did not allow Ketchel to fight in his usual style. From start to finish it was one continuous punch, with Ketchel sending the impudent whenever he could tear an opening.

Smith had a shade at the end of the first, though he slipped to the floor heavily in avoiding an uppercut.

OTHERS MAY REDUCE CRIME.*Declares Mrs. Schoff at Denver Congress.National President Makes a Terse Address.Shafroth Welcomes the Delegates.BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]ENVER, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Are you a theoretical or a practical mother?" was the question to Mrs. Edgar A. Hall, national chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Congress of Mothers, shortly after the delegates arrived today."Practical? Indeed, yes," was the quick reply. And that is the striking feature of the fourteenth national congress, which held its opening session in the Woman's Club building tonight.The delegates were greeted tonight by John F. Shafroth.The main speaker of the evening was Mrs. Frederick J. Schoff, the national president, who spoke on "The Mother's Responsibility for Health, Equality and Good Citizenship."After the meeting, the practical mothers leave their children with a corps of kindergarten teachers, who after the wants of the little ones, some fireworks were set off by Mrs. Schoff when she said:"One-half of the divorces in the world and the greater portion of immorality could not exist if mothers knew how to instruct their children in the ways of correct living.""The principles taught by the mother congress," continued Mrs. Schoff, "are calculated to inspire in mothers a sense of responsibility in the home, in the family and in the nation."In the exhaustive study of the causes of crime, we have found that nearly every case is due to faulty genes and faulty methods in the community. Bad homes make criminals, bad parents make bad children, and the prevention of crime, I say, takes the childhood of the future citizens into account.This can be accomplished by the others, and it is to arouse the realization in women that their duties reach beyond the confines of the kitchen and the nursery, that the mother's Congress work aims."DELIGHTFUL
RADUATES GIVE PLEASING PLAY.*TROUBLESOME INHERITANCE IS PRODUCED.Girls' Collegiate School Entertains Large Audience Under Canopy of Electric Lights in Garden of Casa de Ross, Which Makes Beautiful Setting for Class Affair.The members of the graduating class of the Girls' Collegiate School gave their class play, entitled "A Troublesome Inheritance," in the garden of the school's home, Casa de Ross, last night.The little play itself was charmingly alive with humorous situations that made it most attractive, and the girls entered into it with a spirit that was admirable, but the garden must be reckoned as a delightful and beautiful setting. The trees and dimly roofed run riot over the buildings and balustrades, while other florifications are furnished by the gloomy shrubs that grow in profusion everywhere. At a height of twenty feet was a network of electric wires from which were suspended hundreds of red and yellow lanterns, covering the entire garden and giving the effect of a covered auditorium.Thousands of guests filled every particle of available space and the scene was one of rare beauty.As usual, the play was written and staged by Miss Grace Aberton Denison, who was congratulated on every hand for her clever production.Before the play began she explained briefly the scheme. It was laid in Uncle John's country garden, he having died supposedly, without making a will, and his estate was to be divided among his children. On this night, the heir to the fortune of Uncle John was giving a garden party to all his relatives and neighbors. In the midst of the preparations Edith sat in her uncle's chair, just where she had left it since his death, when she heard hidden away under the arm of the chair, a will, giving all his property to his grand-nephew, David Hartnell.On this night, the heir to the fortune of Uncle John was giving a garden party to all his relatives and neighbors. In the midst of the preparations Edith sat in her uncle's chair, just where she had left it since his death, when she heard hidden away under the arm of the chair, a will, giving all his property to his grand-nephew, David Hartnell.Edith loved David and had hoped to marry him in the temptation of the moment, and for the sake of her mother and brother, she determined to keep secret the finding of the will. David proposed marriage, but she refused him, smitten by the terror of her own guilt; but before it was too late, she changed her mind, displayed the will, and of course became the bride of David in the end.Gladys Young, as Edith, and Barbara Allen, as David, handled the leading parts with skill, but were no better than other members of the cast, all of whom performed like professionals.Cheerful dancing by Dervis Rhodes, several folk-dances in the garden by groups of girls, and songs on the por-tic.The full cast of characters in the play was as follows: David Hartnell, military engineer; Barbara Allen; Ned Chandler, Jessie Matheson; Leroy Jenkins, his friend, Kathleen Carter; Walter Norris, the next door neighbor; Lolita Lovejoy; Mr. Carter, the family lawyer; Jessie Atwood; Jack Freeman, his clerk; Charlie Feltz, son of John's butler; Maurice Shower, Mrs. John's maid; a farmer, Rhoda Ringe; Edith Chandler, Gladys Young; Mrs. Chandler, Ida Corey; Beth, a younger sister to Edith, Clara Estep; Mrs. Morris Allie; Helen Walker; Cousin Agatha, Helen Thayer; Lucy Morris; Dorothy Austin; Barbara, Ollie Estep; Felece, Kauai Wilcox; Mrs. Smith, Frances Whitfield; Miss Loretta Parsons; Florence Mackay; Mrs. Adams; Miss Lightner; Miss Matilda Adams.MRS. CASTLE MURDER.(Continued From First Page.)great wrong. She and Craig were taken to the Police Station, where the lawyer asserted that the woman had become infatuated with him and had followed him here from the Pacific Coast.On September 15, last year, the woman was discharged, Craig having appeared before the grand jury and declared that he did not want to press the charge. The complaint was then dismissed and nothing was heard of Mrs. Castle until January 13, last, when a decree of divorce was granted Mr. Castle at Nome, Alaska. Mrs. Castle was said at that time to be in Canada.The next time that Mrs. Castle appeared in the limelight of publicity was when the announcement of her marriage to Charlton was made on April 10, last. The couple had been married on March 12, in Philadelphia, but the wedding was kept secret.THE WEDDING.The couple was found living at a hotel at Broadway and Fifty-fifth street, and at first Mr. Charlton strenuously denied that his wife had been Mrs. Castle. At that time he caused to be printed the following:"Porter Charlton, son of J. Paul Charlton of Washington, married on March 12, Miss Mary Scott of Council Bluffs, Iowa. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Clay in Philadelphia. My wife never knew Mrs. Mary Scott Castle."Mrs. Castle, or Charlton, was 27 years old. She had a brother, Capt. Henry Harrison Scott, U.S.A., stationed at Fort Morgan, Ala., and at the time of the Craig shooting he furnished the $200 ball needed for his sister's release.Mr. Neville Castle, the woman's divorced husband, is very prominent on the Coast. He was recently appointed Assistant United States District Attorney for the Second Judicial District of Nome, Alaska.MOTHER OF CHARLTON FEARS SON IS DEAD.[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]BALTIMORE (Md.) June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Porter Charlton, the missing husband of the murdered woman formerly Mary Scott of San Francisco, whose body was found in a trunk near Lake Como, Italy, is the son of Judge Paul Shariton of Washington, who is connected with the Department of Justice and the Insular Affairs. The judge's wife is the daughter of Dr. Alfred Wanstell, this city, now critically ill.Mrs. Charlton, at her father's home tonight, said:"I am greatly grieved against the wishes of my father, and we were deeply grieved to hear of it. He had only known Mrs. Castle for about a month and it was a case of love at first sight. He married without telling us anything about it and left Europe to meet up with the Spice Bank at Hamburg. He intended to go there in September and was slowly journeying through Italy and Switzerland on his honeymoon. He has only been married two months.""I cannot realize that anything has happened to Porter's wife, for we only got a letter from them last week at Atlantic City. It was full of beautiful description, not of the scenery but of his wife, with whom he is deeply infatuated. From the fact that he is away from the hotel, I can only believe that he has met with some foul play."Porter was only a boy of 21 years of age and his wife was considerably older. Neither could be more interesting than with Porter's disposition and his affection for his wife than to suppose that the fact that he is missing from the villa where they were staying is evidence to show that she might have met with death at his hands."DETAILS OF SHOOTING INCIDENT RECALLED.[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]NEW YORK, June 10.—Mary Scott Castle was an emotional woman, with a spectacular career. She started New York on August 2, last, by shooting William B. Craig, a New York lawyer, as he stood in "Peacock Alley," at the Waldorf-Astoria. She was a political novice, but politically small, the bullet was deflected by a fountain pen in Craig's pocket, and he was uninjured.Mrs. Castle, trembling and hysterical, was taken to a Police Station, where, between sobs, she said she had not meant to kill Craig, but to be avenged. DOUBTFUL
KNOW HIS AGE.

Police Department Head Not Good Witness.

Patrolman Is Arraigned for Selling Opium.

"Maiden" Name of Chinese Is Trouble-Maker.

Chief of Police Galloway does not know how old he is; Patrolman Leveil does not know opium from wild honey, and the substitution of "Ah," the Chinese word for "Mister," as part of the name of the principal witness for this people, were about the most important developments yesterday, in the case of Jacob Hartnagel, a former patrolman, on trial before Justice Williams for selling opium condemned by him as evidence. The case was continued to June 15 for further evidence.

The case of Hartnagel is one of the police scandals of the day and there was no end of a splash in political circles when it "broke." Hartnagel was formerly a member of the Chinatown squad. It is alleged that on April 26, 1909, with Officers Leveil and Pautz, he raided a Chinese store at No. 781 North Alameda street, confiscating four full cans of opium, one partially filled, and one small jar or "pop-dot" filled with the drug. Only two were used in evidence at the trial of the proprietor of the store and the allegation is that the four full cans were sold to George Morris for $25 by Hartnagel, who met Morris at the rear of Detective Capt. Flanner and Sergt. Sebastian of the Chinatown squad.

CASE IS KEPT QUIET.
Mayor Alexander was also consulted and the result was that, by agreement with the Police Commission, the alleged crime was ignored and Hartnagel was permitted to resign without any sign of prosecution. Not until now, however, has Hartnagel been called in to conference before Chief Galloway, to whom he is understood to have made a full confession, in the presence of Detective Capt. Flanner and Sergt. Sebastian of the Chinatown squad.

THE ACCUSATION AGAINST HARTNAGEL was made by a Chinese who, it is said, had been ill-treated by the officer during a raid. The man, known as Ah Chee, was called in to confer before Chief Galloway, to whom he is understood to have made a full confession, in the presence of Detective Capt. Flanner and Sergt. Sebastian of the Chinatown squad.

leged crime was ignored and Hart-loway, to whom he is understood to ner and Sergt. Sebastian of the Chinatown squad.

NOT SURE IT'S OPIUM.

Pautz had again seen the little jug and a partially filled can of opium used as evidence in the Police Court, and he knew they contained opium, for he had "demonstrated in court with the matchbox to the satisfaction of the judge and the lawyers." Later the other officer, said he had seen Pautz's demonstration in court, but he did not know whether the stuff burned in court was opium or not. He was careful to explain that he "never used it, you know."

George Morris, the man who says he bought the stuff from Hartnagel, knew a good deal more about opium than did Leveil. He said his name was "Mr. George Morris and that he was a jeweler." Morris said he used to be a jeweler, but that he is one no longer.

"It was some time in June—I think the latter part," he said, "that Officer Hartnagel came to me and said he could let me have some opium. He knew I used it. I told him that I could not take it, nothing but what he wanted to give it to me. The next day I met him back of Vignolo's saloon and he handed me four cans of opium. Three of the cans were full and one of them had been open—I took about $10 cents worth had been taken out—about thirty drams."

"I did not pay him for it, but I thought $20 would look good to him. The next day I met him in front of the saloon, and I handed him a $20 gold piece. He did not sell me the opium, but I wanted to get it, and I thought ought to do something for him."

"Ah Chee," the man said to have been the owner of the confiscated drug, proved not to be "Ah Chee," but Wong Sue Chong. He had never sold any opium, had never seen any sold in Los Angeles or anywhere else, and a discussion of what might be his true name became so confused between himself, Edward Ching, the interpreter, and the lawyers, that at the request of Attorney Rush, the court sent the witness chasing after his "chuck-chew," or United States certificate of identity. The "chuck-chew" bore the name of Wong Sue Chong.

HIS MARRIED NAME.

The witness sought to explain that "Ah Chee" was his married name, and his utter confusion, when asked what his "maiden" name might be, was raised upon by the defense as an argument against the ownership of the piano in question.

It was pointed out to the court when he imparted the information that "Ah Chee" was simply the Chinese for Mr. Chee, and the argument, if not settled, was long.

Sergt. Sebastian, Chief Galloway and the patrolmen in the order named, pushed the day by reading over objections made to them by the defense. The Chief seemed to be making his debut as a witness. He appeared to have been familiarized with a desire to back through the story as soon as he was sworn. Here is the official stenographic report of the beginning of his testimony, after the giving of his name and occupation:

Question: Are you over 21?

Answer: Well, yes.

By Mr. Rush: May it please the court, I move that the answers be struck out on the ground that they are uncertain.

The Chief had been embarrassed and hesitated during this part of the hearing, evidently found no comfort in the things that went up at his examination.

We tell today of the Life insurance feature of the Fitzgerald piano club

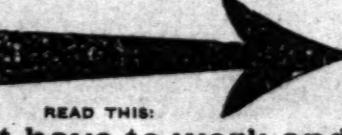

¶ There is a life insurance feature connected with our 20th Anniversary Piano Club. This feature provides against the possibility of the piano being lost to the family in event the head of it should die before the piano is fully paid for.

¶ This unexcelled feature is set forth in the face of the contract in the simplest, yet strongest, language—like this:

¶ This is a simple statement--without any "frills"--that covers the whole story. We want this club to be co-operative and helpful to each and every member in it. We want the saving to each and every member to be the greatest possible. We want every protection that we can think of to go to all its members. In short, we want this big deal, with which to mark our 20th Anniversary in the Piano Business, to be a standing advertisement for us as long as we are in business, and this life insurance idea is its crowning feature.

¶ If the head of the family dies, if the bread-winner dies, if the source of income is stopped by death—the piano is not lost to the family. The family does not have to work and worry to meet the remaining payments. They are immediately cancelled, and a clear "receipt in full" is given to the family of the deceased. Isn't this a comforting and reassuring idea?

READ THIS:

Life insurance clause of Fitzgerald piano club

If the signer of this contract should die during the life thereof, and all weekly rentals have been paid when due, the remaining installments will be cancelled forthwith, and a receipt in full for the piano turned over to the family of the deceased.

(Signed)

FITZGERALD MUSIC CO.

¶ The making of a piano, in fact, is like the making of a picture. Given to one man exactly the same materials and the result is inevitably different. Never exactly the same combination of wood, steel, string and felt.

¶ The Fitzgerald Club Piano is the expression of a great man—his accumulated genius made manifest.

If, with two years' use the piano is not satisfactory, we will exchange it.

June brides will find perfect harmony in the new home if it contains a Fitzgerald Club Piano.

¶ Think of buying a suite of furniture, an automobile, a watch or anything of value, with a privilege of exchanging it at any time within two years from the time you bought it, and not lose a penny in the transaction.

¶ That is exactly what we are willing to do with these Fitzgerald Club pianos.

¶ The club member can come to our store and make another selection. He can select a piano of equal grade or a better grade. Whatever money he has paid, whether it is $40, $50, $60, $100, or whatever the amount, will be credited to the price of his new piano, and we will take the original Club piano back without the loss of a single cent to him.

These Pianos are worth $375. The Club price is $277.50 thus saving you $97.50. The terms are $5 cash and $1.25 a week—less than one-half the regular terms.

¶ The pianos are worth $375. The Fitzgerald Club price is $277.50. The price includes everything. There are no extras of any kind. No interest to be added. Nothing to be added for drayage, stool, absolutely no extras. Two hundred and seventy-seven dollars and fifty cents is the price, and the price includes everything.

¶ These 500 pianos will be sold, $5.00 cash, then $1.25 a week. The $5.00 just about covers the cartage and delivering—yet the $5.00 payment you made when you join the club is credited to your account.

¶ The piano is delivered immediately. You do not have to wait until the club is filled. You get your piano when you join. The remainder is payable every week. Club members do not have to pay but $1.25 a week. This gives them 218 weeks in which to pay for the piano, and still get it at the Club price of $277.50, or at a straight out saving of $97.50.

¶ For the benefit of people living outside the city of Los Angeles we have compiled a booklet, giving full details of the Club Plan, and showing the three different styles and woods of the Club Pianos. We will be glad to mail this booklet, free of charge, to all those who will fill in and return to us the coupon in the lower right hand corner of this sheet.

IVY DAY OBSERVED.

Is Forerunner of Pomona College Celebration at Claremont—Operetta is Presented.

CLAREMONT, June 10.—Ivy Day, the forerunner of the Pomona College commencement, was observed by the graduating class of the college here today. The seniors, clad in caps and gowns, marched to chapel in a body and heard their last chapel address from President James A. Blaisdell. The class then took part in the Ivy ceremony, at which the class vine was set out.

The presentation of "The Pilgrims," an operetta, by the scholars of the Claremont grammar school, was the feature of the graduating exercises held at the school building this morning. All the students had acquitted themselves creditably, the entire cast receiving much applause. The training of the actors and management of the play was superintended by Miss Lucy E. Whittelsey. These scholars received academic diplomas: Jerome McConnell, Grace Blodgett, Melba Case, Gladys Sikes, Ruth Utte, Bernice Jones, Lillian Street, Dale Healy, Robert Witter, Georgia Wallis, Margaret Young, Earl Baughman, Helen Overton, Opie Cubberley, Ray Woodcock, Ruth Johnson, Harry Smith, Paul Nastel, Grant Lim, William Martin, Edwin Whithey, Birdie Tingle, Vincent Savory, Maxson Smith, Frederick Brackett, Douglas Fleming, Peter Parker, Peter Kim, George Hopkins, Joseph Lee, Mabel Allen, Allen Hastings, Helen Powell.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Assay Office Here.

Chamber of Mines and Oil sentogram yesterday to the various members of the House Committee on Weights and Measures urging cooperation in passing the bill for the establishment of a new assay office here.

Methodist Reunion.

All arrangements have been made last for holding the annual Methodist Union and picnic at Long Beach, on June 20. It will be held under the auspices of the Methodist Social Union and the speakers will be Bishop H. Hughes and Dr. F. J. McConaughay, president of DePauw University, and Workers' Reception.

Bethra Hirsch Baruch, accompanied with Hebrew benevolent work, keep open house at her residence, 1105 West Philanthropic street, from 10 to 4 and from 6 to 11.

Her guests will be friends and relatives in public work, and the reception is given prior to her departure Berkeley for the summer.

Celebration of Pentecost.

Services will be held in Sinai Synagogue on Sunday night and on Monday and Tuesday mornings, to celebrate the Jewish Pentecost, or giving of the law, commemorating the giving of the Ten Commandments on Mount Sinai.

At the service tomorrow night will be a confirmation of a class of fourteen young people, which includes Isidore Myers, who will deliver an address by Cantor M. A. Alter.

Graph-Shorthand Picnic.

Annual picnic of the Southern Graph-Shorthand Association will be held at Venice tomorrow. Arrangements have been made for 180 graduates who will leave the station on street at 9 o'clock. The party to be in charge of Mrs. J. M. Bell the Misses J. Fillman and S. B. May. Lunch will be served at the station after which will come the features of which will be some of baseball. The entire day will be passed at Venice.

American Medical Convention Ours.

Dr. H. B. Ellis yesterday stated that the 1911 convention to be held in Los Angeles. The program will be at Los Angeles.

"We have been after this convention for years," said Secretary Wiggin.

The association includes in its membership a number of prominent physicians. Inasmuch as climate is one of our assets, the endorsement of one thousand representative physicians will prove a good thing."

Red Cross.

Chamber of Commerce received a letter from the secretary of Seattle chamber yesterday, extending an invitation to the members of local body to visit Seattle on the occasion being arranged by the Northern Pacific company. It is intended to run a palatial train up the coast to Seattle, and return on an official Chamber of Commerce but many of the members are going to take advantage of the low offered. The Seattle citizens will extend a cordial welcome, as indeed the residents of the all the towns in the itinerary.

Seating New Schools.

The new Normandie-avenue school dedicated yesterday afternoon, flag was raised by Deputy City Superintendent Monlux, and addresses made by Dr. G. W. of the Board of Education. This school has been occupied about two weeks. It contains ten rooms, and cost about $30,000. J. Ayres is the principal. A school has been built about a mile on Fifty-first street, will be dedicated in July. In the rear room the cost approximated $15,000. Citizens of the southwest are delighted by the increased school facilities, yesterday turned out in large numbers to witness the dedication of the Normandie-avenue building.

Glass and Glass Collide.

While going down hill out West eight street yesterday afternoon, a man driving for Gen. Otis by Horace Taylor, came suddenly upon a farm wagon on an intersecting bough, and a collision resulted. Tongue of the wagon, lifted high the efforts of the driver to back his team, stuck and shattered the glass of the machine. There were three occupants, besides the chauffeur. Besides scratches from broken glass, none were injured, and the automobile immediately proceeded on its way. As nearly as could be determined, the accident was the fault of the driver with vehicle. Under circumstances the collision was unavoidable.

BREVITIES.

Applies to The Times Want Ads. to the Branch Office, No. 151 Main Street, may be left for delivery at the Main Office. They will be sent to the Branch Office.

JAIL BURGLAR AFTER TERRIFIC STRUGGLE.

Noted College Athlete of Prominent Family Caught Red-Handed, Makes Desperate Resistance With Powerful Arms and Gun—Confesses.

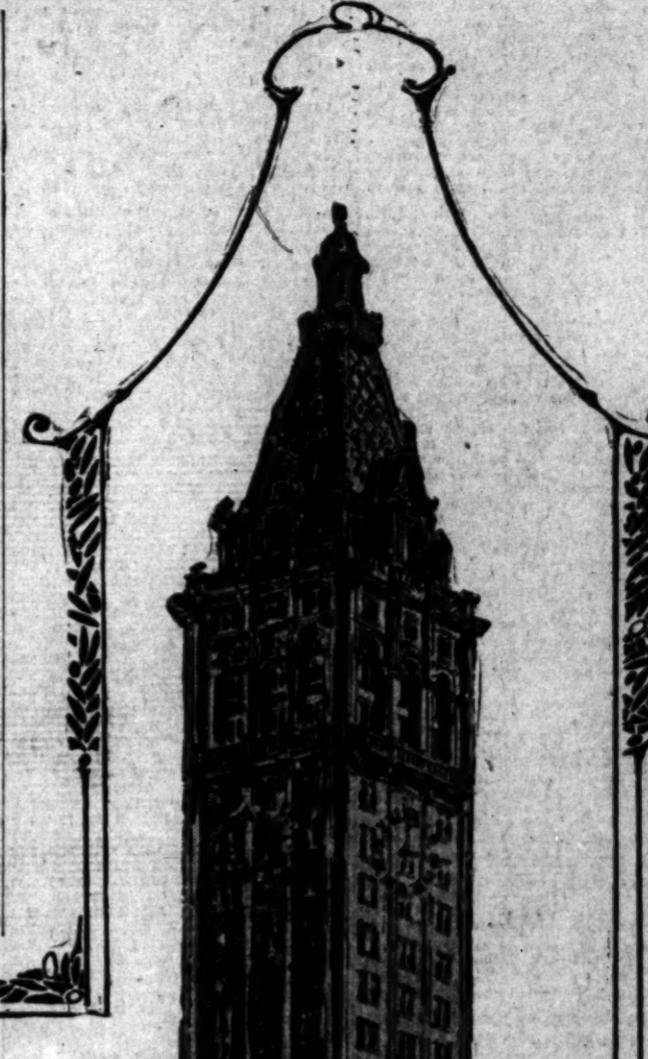

SATTERED with blood and bound with trunk straps and double manacles, R. M. Wiley, a noted athlete of Princeton and Pennsylvania universities, who comes of a family of eastern millionaires, was placed in a felon's cell at the Central Police Station last night. This was after he had been overpowered in a desperate fight with a dozen men who caught him after he had burglarized the home of James M. Yankie, No. 654 Bonnie Brae street.

He lost his gun in a fight with Yankie which occurred in the latter's home when Wiley was discovered looting the house. When he escaped from the clutches of the frantic household, he fled down the street and was overpowered only when neighbors, firemen from Engine Co. No. 11, and a special officer had taken part in the struggle which took place in a vacant lot west of the fire company's barn.

The burglar was in his stocking feet, having lost his shoes in the house which he entered, and he dodged his pursuers in true football style, or hurried over flying tackles with the skill of a practiced track athlete. When he was taken to the Police Station, three valuable rings and several trinkets were taken from his pockets and, after

He has many friends in Chicago, and last night he was trapped into saying that he is engaged to marry the daughter of Architect Designs a Tall Municipal Building.

Would Have Tower Go Up Three Hundred Feet.

Provides for Several Acres of Floor Space.

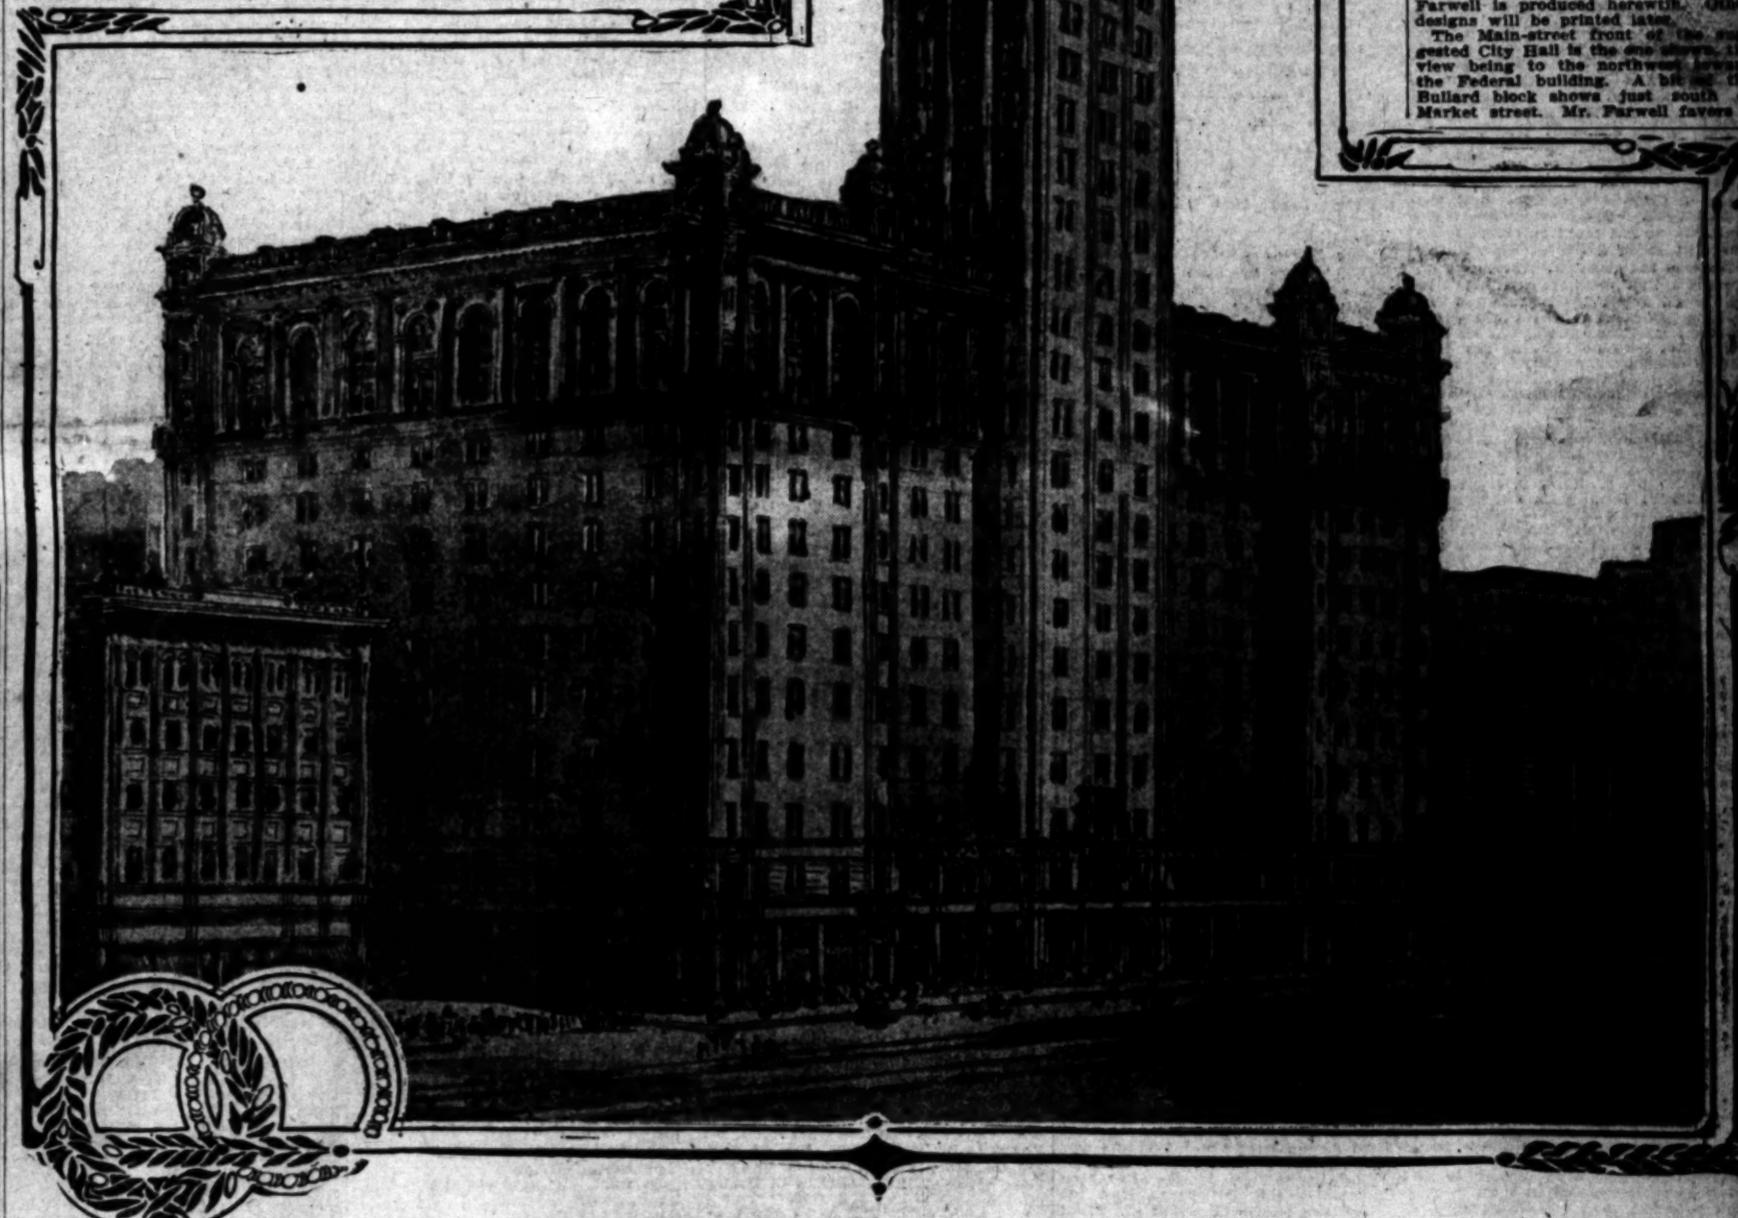

The approaching time when the city must take definite steps for building on its new City Hall site at Spring and Main streets has focused the attention of local architects on the problems of the structure itself.

The rather odd shape of the Temple block brings to the fore the necessity of care in design of a building which shall not only conserve all possible floor space commensurate with the demands for light and air, but which shall also possess a sense of dignity in architecture, for all are agreed that the new home of the municipal departments must be a stately landmark in the civic center plan.

A number of different architects and engineers have endeavored to have sketched out floor plans and elevations embodying their varying ideas as to the proper treatment of the site allotted for the new building. It is said that no two of these are alike.

Lyman Farwell, of the firm of Dennis & Farwell, has prepared tentative designs, which appear to meet the peculiar architectural demands of the site. A perspective prepared by Mr. Farwell is produced herewith. Other designs will be printed later.

The sketch in front of the suggested City Hall is the one in view, being to the northwest of the Federal building. A bit to the Bullard block shows just south of Market street. Mr. Farwell favors Architect Lyman Farwell's Idea of a Beautiful Municipal Building of the Landmark Type for Los Angeles.

Tentative sketch, showing what could be done with the Temple Block City Hall site, combining with architectural pretension the conservation of every available foot of space.

He was questioned by Detectives Zeigler, Hostick and Ingram, who treated him kindly, he broke down and confessed his identity. He told a remarkable story of his life, which included being a boxer and a gilded youth whose father was an Ohio brewer. The papers furnished by the one roommate and beer fest by the other kept him thoroughly inebriated several weeks. His disgrace became so public that he quit college last January, although he was just granted his degree. He obtained enough money with which to travel and came West via Chicago. He stopped over there and indulged in a carousal which ruined his chances of winning back the affections of his intended.

Another letter in the prisoner's pocket seems to indicate that he is a brother of N. P. Wiley, chief engineer of the New York Telephone Company, No. 15 Columbus street. His home is in Rosedale, N. J., from which city he has letters written to him by Miss Hazel De Silva.

One of the treasured possessions in his pocket was a signed picture of Eddie Dillon, captain of Princeton's football team in 1905. This clue led the detectives onto a track which brought them to the home of Mrs. Mary Fee, who was soon consulted on his new lover. He said the night that he lived with the woman at the Drexel Hotel and hinted that he and his affinity had been drunk two weeks.

She quarreled with him yesterday and he became desperate. He had but $2 left in his pocket and no chance of more money since he was cut off by his rich men's sons and because of his accomplishments in this line, acted as an interpreter for Gen. Leonard Wood on several occasions. After the war he prepared for Lawrenceville Academy at Lawrenceville, N. J. He was an excellent student and popular

Judge Hennessy there. She is said to have jilted him because of his indulgence in strong drink.

His escapades at the University of Princeton won the affection of any well-brought-up girl. He began to deteriorate a year ago when he roomed with the son of a millionaire wine merchant, and a gilded youth whose father was an Ohio brewer. The suppers furnished by the one roommate and beer fest by the other kept him thoroughly inebriated several weeks. His disgrace became so public that he quit college last January, although he was just granted his degree.

noted Princeton and Pennsylvania athlete, linguist, member of Chicago Athletic Club teams, coach and writer, who was captured last night after a desperate battle, after he burglarized the home of James M. Yankie, No. 654 Bonnie Brae street. He fought off more than a dozen men.

He took a gun belonging to his woman room-mate and came into this city early yesterday afternoon, where he visited several saloons. Liquor inflamed his imagination and he planned to rob some place.

He had taken some rings from a front room on the second floor and was about structure, the body of which will extend from the street line to the entire 150 feet allowed by the present building ordinances and which will be crowned by a tall tower of triangular proportions to extend at least 150 feet higher. To a tower, he says, should be made legal by the City Council, by special provision, if necessary, for the reason that such a tower is not only demanded as a distinguishing feature of the structure, but to the end of securing additional space for the future growth of the municipal departments. He points out that the huge pile would present a magnificent appearance from almost any part of the city, and be in truth, a landmark.

Mr. Farwell disposes of the floor plan in an ingenious fashion. "There are," he says, "only two schemes which are worthy of any serious consideration. Either the building must be made in a V shape with the apex at Temple street and the open court coming in from Market or the corner must be made on one side of the other. The objection to the former scheme is that it would necessitate a great number of interior rooms and that the elevators would have to be placed at the apex of the triangle. My idea is to run two courts in from the Spring-street side, leaving the building approximately in the shape of a capital E, the back of which will face toward Main street. The exterior design of the structure can be carried completely around each court wall, making every foot of the exterior entirely visible and pleasing from a street view. This plan would insure that every room would be an outside room and permit of placing the elevators in

IN THE PUBLIC SERVICE—Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

H. E. Huntington spent three hours yesterday with the Board of Public Utilities discussing traction problems. Two women alleging they are the wives of Frank L. Smith, who recently died in Denver, leaving $50,000 worth of property in Los Angeles, filed default probate petitions in the Superior Court yesterday.

Judge Hervey rendered a decision yesterday, affecting the negotiable character of warehouse receipts, that all interest dealers in such instruments:

Mas H. Kessler brought an action in the Superior Court yesterday alleging the misuse of funds on the part of Edward L. Hutchison, an attorney of his city, in connection with the estate of James C. Barret.

Judge Hervey yesterday decided that an amendment to the Cartwright anti-trust law of 1907, providing that labor is not a commodity within the meaning of the statute, is unconstitutional and void.

Mrs. Emma Murray is Irish and cannot read Spanish, but knows her rights. Justice Chambers granted her a trial by jury on a charge of not properly keeping her rooming house registered.

Peter Macias, and R. Thompson, Mexican and negro, come-and-go dandies, respectively, were sent to the jail gang for fifty days yesterday by Justice Chambers.

AT THE CITY HALL.

HUNTINGTON IN A CONFERENCE.

ACTION PROBLEMS DISCUSSED WITH UTILITIES BOARD.

Magnate Is Asked to Abandon Long Standing Policy as to Applications for Franchises and Bonuses—Says Universal Transfer System Is Not Possible Now.

A long-expected conference between the Board of Public Utilities and H. E. Huntington, who controls all of the traction and interurban lines except the Los Angeles Pacific, was held yesterday morning, lasting over three hours. Mr. Huntington was accompanied by his attorney, W. E. Dunn, and the board was assisted by City Attorney Hewitt and his assistant, John W. Shenk. At its conclusion nothing was given out except that the board would communicate its ideas writing to Mr. Huntington, who will answer without delay, at least so far as some of the questions are concerned.

The traction magnate did not give an opinion on any subject proposed except the proposal of the board for a universal transfer system, and he said it is not possible now, as the Los Angeles-Pacific Company is independent of his interests.

The other matter discussed were the terms of applications for franchises to the Huntington companies instead of individual grantees, the fixing of franchises for freight hauling through the street, the use of Main Street in diverting interurban traffic from Main Street north, extensions of local lines to populated regions without exacting bonuses, the San Pedro franchise and the Redondo franchise.

It has been the policy of the Huntington interests not to apply for franchises since the twenty-one year limit was adopted, and this rule has been violated only once in many years. That occasion was on Sixth street, between Olive and Figueroa streets. It is in this policy the board wants abandoned.

The board also wants a franchise agreed to for the hauling of freight, assuming that the Council will agree that freight ought to be hauled through the streets under "proper regulations." The City Attorney holds it is being done illegally.

The use of San Pedro street as an outlet for the immense traffic that now congests Main street was discussed tentatively as the city has not yet announced its plan with reference to the use of this street for a municipally owned line to the harbor, and because of this same lack of policy the use of San Pedro street in connection with the South Avenue franchise was discontinued indefinitely. It is agreed, however, that the status of the present franchise on San Pedro street, south of Fifth street, which the company is operating under, should be speedily determined by the courts. As to the Redondo line, the City Attorney is now giving instructions to bring suit to force the company to withdraw the tracks of the Los Angeles Railway in the city, to take out a franchise, and the attorney has delayed action until the conference with Mr. Huntington could be held. An early answer to this was promised to the City Attorney, might make a report to the Council or brief the suit.

As to the extensions, the board did not ask that lines carried into new tracts which are not populated be considered, but the extension which they are justified by a natural increase in population should be made without any bonus charge. This was another policy resulting from the adoption of the twenty-one-year franchise which the Huntington interests is asked to abandon.

TRACK PAVING LAW.

MAYOR THINKING IT OVER. The Mayor will decide today whether to approve or disapprove the ordinance passed by the Council requiring the new track paving specifications. Sitting in judicial form yesterday he gave a final hearing to the city officials who are urging him to sign and the engineers for the steam and traction companies, that are urging him not to sign.

After a discussion of over two hours all left except the Mayor, and he would not say what he will do today, though he admitted he will do something.

The affirmative insisted that the specifications calling for either cement or grouted broken stone under the ties was established practice in track construction and that the ordinance was responding to modern needs. The negative asserted that all the sought could be accomplished by the use of natural stone, ungrouted, with concrete only as an upper base, and that this would prevent the great days to dry and that during this time cars might not be operated on the tracks. This delay will work weeks of interruption to traffic in the business district, they contended, and will result in more injury than a less "drastic" regulation.

The officers pointing to the Southern Pacific's construction with girder rails on Alameda street, during which traffic was not interrupted.

"If the time required for paving under this ordinance is longer than it now takes it will be a benefit, for I know it to be a fact that the reconstruction work under the present practice has been abominably slow and most of the tracks are in abominable condition."

SAYS WHEN NEGOTIABLE. WAREHOUSE RECEIPT DECISION.

A question of the liability of a warehouse company for the issuance of a warehouse certificate, was decided by Judge Hervey yesterday. The court found for the plaintiff in the case brought by C. A. Boyle against the Davies Warehouse Company, for $500.

R. L. Forsythe, as manager of the Central Motor Car Company, bought four bills of lading attached to a draft for the purchase price arrived with the machines, and they were stored by the machines, and they were stored by the Davies Warehouse Company.

UNION HOLLYWOOD WATER COMPANY SPEAKS.

President of the Concern Says It Has Been Forced to Discontinue All Extensions and Improvements on Its System in the City—Affects Holmby and Other Districts.

The Union Hollywood Water Company has something to say about the rate which the City Council has set for its service. Following is an official statement issued by C. J. Heyler, president of the company:

"Owing to the fact that the city has made the rates for our service so low as to be practically confiscatory, the Union Hollywood Water Company has been forced to discontinue all extensions and improvements on that part of its system lying within the city. We have laid off thirty of our employees, and countermanded orders for pipe aggregating about $35,000. The fourteen-inch main which we had contemplated laying in Santa Monica Avenue has been abandoned, and other important additions to our equipment:

"We are rejecting all applications from real estate men for the piping of new tracts in the western part of the city, and will continue doing so, although we regret the consequent retarding of the development of this section which has been going ahead so fast. All contracts for piping tracts which have been made, either in writing or by verbal understanding, will be carried out, of course, but this will be the absolute final extent of our development work."

"We have just concluded connecting the system of the old Holly Wood Water Company, which we recently took over, with our own, and have installed up-to-date machinery in the old pumping plant of the smaller concern. We went to this great expense with a view to getting the best service in that vicinity, and throughout the system as well, but a number of other betterments which were to have followed this coupling of the companies, will now be abandoned.

"I regret to have to take this stand, and realize fully that it is a step backward in the development of the city, which has been taking such rapid strides toward the sea, but the action of the City Council leaves us no alternative."

The company's system in the city limits includes the entire district west of Arlington street and embraces the Wilshire and Arlington Heights districts and Hollywood.

Testator Died Some Time Ago in Denver and Left Property in Los Angeles Valued at Fifty Thousand Dollars—Counter Petitions Presented for Letters of Administration.

Two petitions have been filed in the Superior Court, each by a woman claiming to be the widow of Frank L. Smith of Denver, who died in that city recently. He left property in Los Angeles said to be worth $50,000, located at Seventh and Alameda streets.

The first petition was filed May 23 by R. A. Christy at the request of Charlie S. Smith of Denver, it being alleged that his company was treated unfairly by the other public utility corporation. Our policy was to secure as much information as was possible, from every possible source, concerning the companies themselves, the form our own conclusions, did not have the time to listen to individual stories on the part of companies and their attorneys, did we deem that such was necessary, because our reports and recommendations are not final, and we felt the companies would, in event demand hearing before the Council.

The companies had an opportunity present their case to the City Council, which they declined to do. They came to us with cross-examining experts, and when we were ready to put other experts on the stand, and ready to answer any further question that might be propounded by the companies or the City Council, we were denied that no further cross-examination was possible. We reaffirm the fact stated in our article that we did not have the means nor facilities to make full use of plants and to work the details of operation or the like, and we do not consider for a moment that in order to determine a schedule of rates for a public corporation, it is absolutely necessary to make a complete physical valuation of its properties. Of course, it is desirable that this be done, but well qualified experts are capable of valuing from their own general knowledge and experience, and from knowledge of local conditions, what would constitute a fair rate.

It seemed to us that the company was a very poor judge to criticize information upon which they declined to take advantage of the services of the mining congress, as well as the professional examination of all the experts employed with us, one of whom is the executive manager of the electric municipal electric-lighting department, and certainly he had experience in the executive and commercial departments of the electric business.

PATROL HORSES REST.

For nearly twelve hours yesterday there was not a single call for the patrol wagon at the police station. A drunken man was sent in at 4:35 o'clock in the morning, and after that, although warrant officers brought in two or three troublemakers and a few rowdy spudlers were booked, the wagon had nothing to do but sit in the sun in the stall until 3:35 in the afternoon, when a woman arrested on a misdemeanor charge insisted on having the wagon called for.

BACK TO ARIZONA.

A. G. Knatz will go back to Arizona to face a charge of passing worthless check. Knatz was arrested last night for stealing $10 from a woman, but this charge was dropped yesterday at the request of the Arizona authorities.

TOO MANY CLOTHES.

Miguel Sevendras, a Mexican, wore more clothes than the mildness of the shrunken considerably in size. Thirty-big overalls. He was also wearing an extra coat and vest. The silk was identified as the property of a down-

CHECKING DISORDER.

The usual accompaniment of labor-union strikes has started in Los Angeles. We refer to the attack upon a peaceable employee of one of the breweries who in the performance of his duty was brutally attacked by a brewery striker. The victim's arm suffered a compound fracture, and he would have lost his life but for the timely interference of a deputy from the Sheriff's office.

Had the brewery strike and the metal workers' strike been in San Francisco or Chicago there would be already a series of riots, with the maining of numerous peaceable, law-abiding men, possibly with the crime of murder in one or more instances. The reason why we have had so little brutality in Los Angeles in the last two weeks is because of the sentiment of the public which will stand for no such developments. At the inception of the strike here the Chief of Police outlined his position and his intentions in a very clear manner.

The determination on the part of the peace officer to have his men do their duty immediately checked open boycotting and almost removed from the conditions here everything in the nature of a breach of the law or a breach of the peace. Truthfully or otherwise, later on there was spread abroad through the city a statement to the effect that the Chief of Police was vacillating and would only interfere in a case of absolute violence.

Instantly the trouble started afresh, with its culmination in this brutal, murderous attack of the man Meier upon the brewery wagon man.

Now, this illustrates the situation in a way that no mere reasoning through words could do. We have here a concrete example showing the necessity of vigorous, continuous work on the part of the police force. The location where attacks of this kind are likely to be made is well known. The territory is pretty clearly defined. In most parts of the city the thugs will not dare to attack a peaceable man going about his business. Just now the most important duty devolving upon the police and Sheriff's forces is to check all attempts to interfere with law-abiding, peaceable men going about their business on the part of these brutal strikers, inflamed with passion and often half or wholly drunk.

It is not the business of the plain citizen to prevent attacks like this of last Thursday. The taxpayers maintain a police force to keep the peace, and the temper of this community will not brook any slackness in the performance of duty. The citizens of Los Angeles will demand that this duty be done, be done persistently, carefully but vigorously.

If this course is followed out there will be no trouble in the city of Los Angeles and every man will be free to go about his business in his own way at his own pleasure, and be safe in life and limb while doing it.

M. TAFT'S FIRST YEAR.

We have had practically a year of Mr. Taft's administration as President. He found great tasks before him to perform and great difficulties in the way of the performance. He is a forceful man, but his powers are all under most excellent restraint.

Whatever he does is directed toward the accomplishment of the end in view, and his force is never permitted to break out, unrestrained, and to work destruction.

The Republican National Convention in session in Chicago two years ago cut out big tasks for the new administration, and these tasks were many as well as great. If the Republican members of Congress had all been real Republicans the President's work would have been easy compared with what it has been. With nominally a large Republican majority to work on, the House of Representatives and the Senate were very nearly equally divided on many points because of the disloyalty to the party and to American ideals of a great many falsely called Republicans.

With all these things to be accomplished and with all these difficulties standing in the way, at the end of the year the Taft administration has possibly more to its credit than any previous administration in a similar period of time since the first President sat in the chair in Washington. First came the tariff law, which the party convention bound the President and Congress to pass in an extraordinary session. The session was called at once, and, everything considered, the law was enacted with promptness. This was accomplished in the face of determined resistance on the part of quite a number of so-called Republicans who should have bowed to the will of the people and not obstinately stuck to their own preconceived notions.

The infamy of this course on the part of the "insurgents" is plain to any thinking person observing wing of both the House of Representatives and the Senate. We use advisedly "the other wing." Broadly speaking, there has been a line of cleavage which has placed the Taft Republicans on the right of the line, with a few conservative, reasonable Democrats on many points; and on the sinister side of the line we have in a compact body, talking in the same strain, singing the same notes, gesticulating in the same wild way, irrational, conceited, overbearing, imposing their ideas upon all, conceding nothing to any, the populistic Democrats and the "insurgent" Republicans. Their views, their words, their manner, their self-conceit, were all so near alike that you might as well set a blindfold child to select individual specimens from a bowl of peas as to try to distinguish between these obstinate-minded legislators.

The President is committed to no interest and to no side of any controversy. He stands immovable on one proposition—a square deal to all and equal rights to all. He recognizes the fact that the railroads have rights which cannot be ignored, and yet that the government has rights, the abandonment of which would be to subject the people to tyrannous exploitation. At the same time he recognizes the strong temptation in selfish human nature to lead the shippers into demanding too much from the railroads. It is the common interest of the government, of the common carriers and of the shippers of the country to be reasonable each with the other, to concede the rights each of the other, and to act only along lines of absolute justice between the contending interests—and that is all in the cause of the great mass of the people whose prosperity and happiness depend upon an unrestrained course for the many vast enterprises of industrial America.

With all these things to be accomplished and with all these difficulties standing in the way, at the end of the year the Taft administration has possibly more to its credit than any previous administration in a similar period of time since the first President sat in the chair in Washington. First came the tariff law, which the party convention bound the President and Congress to pass in an extraordinary session. The session was called at once, and, everything considered, the law was enacted with promptness. This was accomplished in the face of determined resistance on the part of quite a number of so-called Republicans who should have bowed to the will of the people and not obstinately stuck to their own preconceived notions.

The infamy of this course on the part of the "insurgents" is plain to any thinking person observing which the test cannot be successfully met—the spirit which is must be shown before we are equipped to successfully meet the complex problems before us—is what I may call the spirit of intellectual honesty; the spirit that hears before it decides; the spirit that yields itself to genuine confidence; the spirit that is not played upon by the total self-interest that so often makes up the atmosphere through which we look at the interest of the others; above all, the spirit that will hold our leaders of public opinion accountable as men who give out the money coin of the country are held accountable; that thought given out on public questions contains nothing in it that is not the real thought of the mind behind it; that spirit that will not, in the interest of political or personal expediency, tolerate the passing of counterfeit opinion. Nothing, indeed, is so insidious as an intellectual counterfeit; nothing so pervasive; nothing so hard to overtake, or so hard to overpower when overtaken; and nothing so hurtful and dangerous.

The people in this country govern through their representatives; and unless the people are intelligent, that is, know the facts, and unless their leaders are honest, popular government is always in imminent danger.

The two great molders of public opinion in this country are the platform from which the speakers of different kinds address the people, and the newspapers. Sometimes the speaker or the editor is ignorant, and then the people are misled. Sometimes he is dishonest, with the same result in an exaggerated form.

To take the conservation policy of the government as an illustration of how the people are misled; partly by ignorant leaders and partly by dishonest ones.

There is a widespread impression abroad among the people that the government is negligent if not culpably criminal in this work. It is a new idea in our affairs. In the old States the people have been permitted to possess themselves, under laws more or less correct, of the public domain and everything in it. Iowa people have acquired pretty nearly every right the American people ever had in the state of Iowa.

Some of the most important measures of the Paynes-Aldrich bill fixing the tariff schedules did not quite meet with the views of President Taft, nor does the railroad bill as it stands today. The third great achievement of the administration is the advancing so far of the postal savings bank bill. With the railroad measure, this will soon become written in the statute books; and, like the others, it does not quite coincide with the administration's views, but in a large way is acceptable to the President.

of New York City twelve years, where, as you know, there is no telephone system and recognized to be the best in the world. A few years ago the citizens of New York began to rebel at what they thought exorbitant telephone rates, and the officials of the telephone company invited them—that is, some of the representative business men to look over their books and see just what profit they were making out of the business. These business men found, if my memory serves me right, that the telephone company was making no larger profits than they themselves would be satisfied with. Almost without exception the business men and residents of that great city are opposed to a dual telephone system, both on account of the inconvenience and the added expense of having to have two or more telephone companies in order to compel them to keep their rates at a reasonable figure, as has been demonstrated in New York. Sooner or later the two companies, if not publicly, then clandestinely, will combine for the benefit of the public.

Then the day is not far distant when we may have here, as in the great city of New York, only one telephone system.

TRAIN LEAVES ON SALT LAKE.

Passengers for First Trip East.

General Orders Show Track to Be Improved.

Rock Playground Work Progressing.

The last spike has been driven in Salt Lake road and the line is open for business. Late last night a freight train loaded with asphalt from Los Angeles for Salt Lake City left the line, while a second freight pulled out of the local yards for mules loaded with hides that were awaiting the opening of the for shipment.

Night two trains of oranges will leave Southern California—the first such perishable freight over unconstructed line.

At 8 o'clock tonight, the first passenger train—the Overland—will leave Salt Lake station jammed to the brim for the East. Two sleepers run to Salt Lake and one to Denver. There are also four tourist cars on this train. One car goes to Ogallala, another runs to Ogallala, a third to Kansas City and the fourth to Chicago.

The west-bound companion train leaves the Northwestern station, Chicago, tonight at 10:30 o'clock, a through car also leaving Ogallala at 11:30 p.m. and will meet the train at Ogallala.

Trains are already heavily loaded and other trains may be added to the schedule. Every Lake office is open and the arrangements are picked up where they were dropped at the time of the out.

Sixth and Spring streets, Charlie's counters are full of people determined to make the most of their time on the western trip, and Pike's in itself an advertisement.

Freight Agent Sloan has come from the East and is personally giving attention to the requirements of business and the engine office is preparing to push the construction of the high line.

It was announced yesterday that the new bridge across the Washout will total about $750,000, besides the cost of the cost of the building of the road organization together during the washout.

The line will total cannot be given in regard to freight and for business, to say nothing of the fact that the road will be closed to the public.

On weighing is settled the price to paid each road for mail carrying the past four years.

It is announced that the Postmaster General has ordered a reweighing of the mail in order to take care of Salt Lake, but this is not confirmed.

At the work of repair in the rail yards which caused the delay of fast and heavy freight, freight generally moves slowly.

Order of the handling of up to thirty miles per hour maximum section.

At the end of the Valley, the roads have been repaired wherever possible and all bridges have been roughly inspected. Rolling stock has been gone and new cars are waiting in China to put into service as soon as can be sent West.

Rushing Playground Road.

Card Huntington has been planning on Los Angeles at Eagle Rock.

Already the grading of the car line is complete and the action is now being taken for the steel.

The overhead wire will be put in and within sixty days the line will be open to the public.

And the big concrete bridge will be a part of the play.

It is being pushed, and the day has a large face of men.

Escape Gardner John Sunday, has beautified the grounds, has all underbrush in the ground and is arranging to park the grounds.

SHRIEK WITH TERROR.

While the terrible fight was going on upstairs, Mrs. Yankie and her 17-year-old daughter shrieked with terror at the sound of their father's danger.

Neighbors rushed out on the street and foremast of these was J. W. Nicholson, No. 517 Bonnie Brae Avenue. He outdistanced others and was close to the burglar, who was running in his stocking feet, when the women called out that the robber still had his gun.

Nicholson dove forward for a gun, his son was bringing and the man climbed up an embankment into a vacant lot near the fire house of Engine Co. 11.

Fireman Harry Burr, George Phillips, flushed out into the street and tried to catch the robber. They soon discovered that he was unarmed, but powerful enough to be dangerous.

Nickinson soon rushed into the lot without the awaited gun, and neighbors ran to the scene. Wiley dodged the firemen, grabbed them, then jumped over them when they stopped, and ran around the lot like a cornered animal.

Fireman Burr made a lucky flying tackle, and the mob piled into the after the young fireman had made a dash for the police.

new Organization Subject of Much Comment by Business Men Who Say They Will Join If It Acts Up to Its Resolutions—Bogus Check is Caught Red-Handed.

of the Times, No. 24 S. Raymond Ave.
PASADENA, June 11.—The newly-organized Civic Association held its first meeting yesterday and started by unanimously adopting resolutions commending Adolphus Busch for his work in beautifying his property along the Arroyo Seco and for his generosity in opening it to the public.

another matter which was freely discussed was the membership of the organization. It was decided to send an invitation to every one interested in civic welfare to join. "No one who is a good booster, or who has the best interests of the city at heart, will be barred," said trustee Modell Thursday. "There is politics in our organization and no one will be barred simply because he supported this or that political party in the last mayoralty campaign."

The new organization is the subject of much comment among business men and many have stated that it acts in accordance with its first of resolutions they will join.

CAUGHT RED-HANDED.

Mohr, 17 years old, was arrested late yesterday afternoon charged with passing a bogus check $25 for the clothing of a Saenger, who was caught red-handed in the act of passing another check a similar amount at the Meyer department store. The checks were signed "G. S. Bliss." Young Mohr worked for Bliss for some time and received his pay by check. He was asked if he put odd times practicing his signature. The checks were cashed at the Crown City Bank, where Bliss keeps his account. The first check was admirably done and Mohr began to think he was "getting rich quick," rushed over to the department store thinking he would get enough money to get out of town and "have good time."

Mohr has been arrested a number of times by the local police on petty charges, but this is his first felony charge. He was caught red-handed and will probably get a term at Whittier.

SKULL FRACTURED.

Invent Widney, an orphan boy living at the Children's Training School Det Mar avenue, fell from a ladder swing at the Grant school yesterday morning and sustained a broken skull. His recovery is doubtful. It was stated that the boy was not within the rules and was sitting on the swing instead of hanging on when he was thrown off.

Many accidents have occurred at the various grammar schools during the year where various forms of playground appliances have been used for the children's amusement. One occurred at the McKinley school recently on the patent "Slide," which was afterward abandoned. It is noted the children are not carefully checked while at play and they get away with it. Many complaints have been made by parents to the principals of the various schools, the work of checking over so many children at play burdensome and that it is almost impossible to keep some of them from getting hurt.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

The graduation exercises of the Los Angeles school were held yesterday morning. The address was delivered by Dr. Charles Hubbard, who impressed the graduates with great impressiveness. The work ahead of them Thomas was presented by Miss Morrison.

The graduates are Misses Ximena Fundenberg, Elizabeth Humphrey, Helen Hansen Shinn, Isabel Smith, Elizabeth Buel Watkins, Hilda Vivian Vail.

The annual school dramatics were held last night at the Shakespearean Hall, die Kasten, in its dining room. The drama was given at the school home on Los Robles avenue. The guests were received by Misses Morrison and the members of the class.

WILL BE REPRESENTED.

The Pasadena Lodge of Elks will be presented at the Grand Lodge meeting at Detroit July 10, by twenty-five members. They will travel in a special train on the road with the Orange City brigade composed of lodges from Santa Monica, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Redlands, Riverside and San Bernardino. They will take several days of advertising literature descriptive of Pasadena. The Board of Trade invited on a new basis especially for the trip. Harry Gooshegan, president of the board, will have charge distributing the literature.

OLD RESIDENT DIES.

Mrs. Emilie Mathurin Lauzon, a native of Canada, who was a resident of Pasadena for twenty-two years, died yesterday morning at her home, No. 6 Palmetto drive, at the age of 82 years. The funeral services will be held at St. Paul's Catholic Church this afternoon.

After carefully checking and reckoning all the subscription slips, the postage Committee for the new Y.W.C.A. home, located on the corner of 10th and Main streets, will be held this afternoon. The amount collected is $20,000. The extra amount will be used in furnishing the new home at No. 75 North Marengave avenue.

FAREWELL PARTY.

A farewell party was given yesterday afternoon by Mr. E. F. Huntington, at his home in South Pasadena, in honor of Mrs. Lucius Jarvis, who will leave shortly with her husband on an extended trip to Europe. The guests present were: Misses H. C. Glendale, J. O. McCament, D. V. Hersey, W. N. Van Nuya, T. W. Bishop, Linton DeWitt, White and Miss Union.

Miss Mabel Bishop gave a recital at her studio on El Centro street in which fifteen of her younger pupils took part.

GLENDALE.

GLENDALE, June 10.—The closing days of Citrus Union High School are marked with activity. The senior class, one of the largest to graduate, completed their work today. Next week will be devoted largely to the examination of the other classes.

Mr. C. F. Richardson, principal, will be delivered by Rev. C. F. Richardson at the opera house, Sunday, at 8 p.m. Class night will be held in the High School auditorium, Thursday, commencement exercises will be held at Citrus Union High School Saturday.

A large delegation from Glendale Lodge No. 404, I.O.O.F., assisted in instituting a Lodge at San Dimas Thursday evening.

Work on the mountain road is progressing satisfactorily. The survey has been completed, a profile drawn and filed in the County Surveyor's

Pierce, C. M. Tulloch and Miss Julia Holmes.

The Altadena Woman's Club held its last meeting of the year yesterday afternoon at the home of the new president, Mrs. Harriet Dickinson. Mrs. Martinne Dickinson gave a pleasant address on her travels in the Island of Madeira, where she spent two years. Mrs. J. S. Sudman of Los Angeles entertained with musical selections. The delegates appointed to visit the Woman's Club of Sierra Madre Monday are: Misses A. F. Gartz, Ira C. Goodridge, J. B. Coulston.

PROUD PUPILS RECEIVE CARDS.PROMOTIONS ARE ANNOUNCED AT POMONA SCHOOLS.

Grade Rooms and Kindergartens Close for Summer Vacation—Fifty-three Will Graduate at High Later in Month—Cannery Starts Run on Apricots—Flag Day Programmes.

POMONA, June 10.—All of the grade schools and the public kindergarten in this city closed for the summer vacation today, the promotions being made in the various classes. Many of the teachers are planning to leave for their homes tomorrow and on Monday, owing to the continued illness of Supervising Principal F. W. Kaufman, who is unfortunately confined to his bed. He has been much extra report work to accomplish. For the first time here promotion cards are to be issued by Miss Greenwood, the principal, to the kindergarten tots who will enter the grade schools next term, and the youngsters were the proudest pupils in the city. The High School will not close for two weeks, when a class of fifty-three will be graduated.

The Pomona Cannery started a brief run on apricots today. The work on this fruit will continue for about a month. The peach crop, which will be of excellent quality, is of good size and will follow.

WILL RULE ELSEWHERE.

The young women pupils of the Monte Vista School on East Holt avenue gave their teacher, Miss Elva Williams, a "kitchen shower" yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. Clyde Downer, on Orchard avenue. Miss Williams, who is soon to be married, was the recipient of many useful gifts. The proceeds of the shower will go to the children at the McKinley school, which was afterward abandoned. It is noted the children are not carefully checked while at play and they get away with it. Many complaints have been made by parents to the principals of the various schools, the work of checking over so many children at play burdensome and that it is almost impossible to keep some of them from getting hurt.

The young women pupils of the Monte Vista School on East Holt avenue gave their teacher, Miss Elva Williams, a "kitchen shower" yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. Clyde Downer, on Orchard avenue. Miss Williams, who is soon to be married, was the recipient of many useful gifts. The proceeds of the shower will go to the children at the McKinley school, which was afterward abandoned. It is noted the children are not carefully checked while at play and they get away with it. SAVES FRIEND IN SPITE OF PROSPECT OF EXPLOSION.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

EL CENTRO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles O. Hampton, a well-known desert character, is here on crutches today, telling the story of his escape from death from gas in a country well and of the heroic action of Henry Walker in going to his rescue in the face of what seemed a prospect of a horrible death.

Hampton was digging a well for Imperial county, on the desert road to Julian, and Walker was his helper. The former went down the well to place and set off charges of dynamite to blast rocks. He discovered he was being overcome by gas and signalled his helper to haul him up. He stuck his foot into a loop of chain and when almost at the surface lost unconsciousness and fell to a shelf in the well at a depth of twenty-three feet.

Walker supposed the fuses to the dynamite were lit and that an explosion would take place any moment, but in spite of this supposed danger, deadeyes, and the weight of the chain, Hampton, "body, climber out and drew the elder man to safety. Hampton was unconscious more than an hour and Walker, while working to restore him, awaited the explosion of dynamite. Hampton had failed to light the fuses when he found himself being overcome by gas. His hip and knee were badly injured by the fall.

NOT OBLIGED TO BUY.

Riverside Judge Gives Decision in Favor of Trustees of Corona School District.

RIVERSIDE, June 10.—Because of a technical irregularity in the wording of a notice, calling a district meeting at Corona last January to select a site for a new $30,000 grammar school, Judge Densmore has decided that the trustees of the school district are not obliged to purchase the two acres designated upon at that time. A later meeting will be at which a five-acre site will be selected.

Today Smith came up from Imperial City and was going to theater tonight with Miss Miles when called. He followed the couple few steps from the house and suddenly raised a visit of ad to his lips, sinking into a chair. The hands at the table as it fell to the sidewalk staggered him. As Smith turned toward the insane lover Miles informed him what had taken and said, "Run, run, don't stop, run." Miles finally being overtaken, he was overhauled at an awful agony.

Miss Miles swooned and unconscious at a late hour, despite efforts of baseball captain and at one time was identified with high school students.

HANDLEY-EWING.

The marriage of Mrs. Mary Catherine Ewing and Charles William Handley took place at the Grace Methodist Church last evening, at the close of the mid-week prayer meeting.

The bride and groom advanced to the chancel, to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" played by Miss Gladys Ogborn, and the ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Goss.

The bride, a young woman of tall shantung silk, hand embroidered. Upon their return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Handley will make their home at No. 179 East Sixth street.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Harve Crane, aged 42, a native of Ohio and resident of Toledo, and Clara Robinson, aged 24, a native of Clara and resident of Lima, O.; to Lawrence and Rosalie Deneen, both residents of Kentucky; and to Charles H. Hadley, 24, native of Iowa, both residents of Corona; and to Charles William Handley, aged 41, a native of Iowa, and Mary Catherine Ewing, aged 32, native of Kentucky, both residents of Riverside.

WASHES FACE DIES.

A young Mexican laborer, working in the San Joaquin valley, washed his face and died. The deceased is supposed to have been overheated and the sudden application of cold water to his face caused shock, which stopped the heart action. His field Mexican, fearing the sudden demise, became frightened and dashed from the locality. Their superstitious fears made necessary to cease work in that section of the yard for the day.

FOR NEW BLOCK.

Tents are being prepared for a new block on the north side of Third street, between Main and Broadway, by Mr. Newberg. The block will be situated opposite the Old Fellows' temple and the deceased is supposed to have a frontage of 77 feet and a depth of 10 feet. The cost will be in neighborhood of $10,000.

A new block has been bought of S. Buells a five-acre orange grove the Colton terrace, at Grand and G street. Consideration, $5000.

and guest to plan to go their separate ways, except where they can conveniently join issues. This seems strange to those of smaller towns or country places, but after all it is the only way when entertainments are planned months ahead.

Even in the quiet of the smaller places it is most enjoyable if house guest and hostess, without being indifferent to each other's coming and going, do not intrude too closely upon each other's time.

Some Palatable Dishes.

A novel way of cooking eggs is called "egg pie." Take two tablespoonsfuls of butter, one pint of cream, six hard-boiled eggs, a sprig of parsley.

Melt the butter in a chafing dish or sauce pan, add the flour, the parsley, the mushrooms, cut fine, the cream, the eggs, the salt, pepper and the boiled eggs, cut in slices. Let the whole come to a boil and serve at once.

A tea biscuit made with maple sugar is delicious. It is something between bread and dessert. Make a regular biscuit dough of two pints of flour sifted with two teaspoonsfuls of baking powder, one scant teaspoonful of salt, and one large tablespoonful of butter. Mix into a soft dough with sweet maple sugar, roll to proper thickness, cut with fancy cutters and bake quickly.

For the season when eggs largely take the place of meat, this dish, called "eggs in nests," is an appetizing change. Take the yolks from the eggs and beat to a stiff froth. Pile irregularly on a flat buttered baking dish and make hollows here and there. Sprinkle the hollows with salt and pepper and drop into each the yolk of an egg. Put a small piece of butter on each yolk. Place the dish in the oven from five to eight minutes. Serve at once.

Cleaning Silk Gloves.

Silk gloves can be washed like any ordinary material, though it is best to soak colored ones in salt water before washing them, especially if the colors leave on the wrong side, as it raises the threads on the right. When perfectly dry turn them, and you will see that they look like new. Use bluing in the rinse water for all gloves.

To Preserve Wedding Cards.

Most girls like to preserve wedding cards. Here is an idea: Make a cover like a book cover, of cardboard, covered first with wadding and afterward with white cloth. On the cover put the name of the bride and groom.

The leaves of this book are the invitations and announcements of one's own and friends' weddings. On the blank pages of the invitations may be pasted pictures of the bride and groom, of the clergymen officiating, of the attendants, of the church or in its wedding decorations, of the wedding cake, etc.

Gardening.

In regard to this particular wedding—in fact, anything that may be of interest as time passes on. The invitations may be perforated half an inch from the folded edge and fastened by a narrow white ribbon to the binding and the covers tied together by white ribbon.

A Philanthropy Test.

We were speaking of charity, and of how many demands there are in any city, when one of the party who always has ideas, having said nothing, asked my opinion. "How is it, Mrs. N., do you believe in giving alms—upon the street, for instance?"

"Sometimes, I do," she said. Then she frankly admitted that she liked to give wherever and whenever she thought charity needed, without waiting for an association to present the "patient." "But," she added, "I have no method of my own in such matters. I do not believe in simply giving a little money, to the really needy and allowing the matter to end there. If the person is deserving, I think we who are more fortunate should carry the assistance further and help him to earn his living."

"You should not try to force the matter of 'visiting' until both are willing to meet at home a busy man and will be able to tell him what he wants to visit him.
